SERIOUS BREAKS IN STEEL STOCKS CHECK DETERMINED RALLY IN THE RAILS

At the start the railroads gave way for 1/2 point and then came back with good strength. The Street, bearish as ever, was of the opinion that the railroad list had about run its course, they found list. from 63 ... the opening, to 60%, with a by the strong moneyed interest, recovery to 61%. about run its course, they found little satisfaction in industrials and became less pessimistic as a result, covering here and there, but not letting up in here and there, but not letting up in their bounding on Steel. However, the new low record on both common and preferred for the year nade many of the shorts run for cover in a commendable desire to bank their profits. There were rumors of a peol to be organized by Morgan and his friends to stand back of the market, although the action of the rails did not suggest the need of anything of that kind. It isn't a case of the rails did not suggest the need of anything of that kind. It isn't a case of money, after all, it's a case of lack of confidence, of knowledge that reorganization is necessary to the trusts and that politics are unsettling.

It is probable that there will be a better closing on the profit-taking movement that is likely to develop at the handsome gains in sight for the bears.

At 1:30 this afternoon Steel common was 58%, the preferred 135%, and Union Pacific 157%.

mon and preferred resulted in another serious slump; more than that, it undermined the wonderful earlier strength of the whole market and sent rails, which had steadily resisted the bears' attacks, down to lower levels and did it with remarkable ease.

Business conditions, lack of support

The smashing of the strength in the rails was really the feature of the hour. Union Pacific lost %, with a % recovery; Southern Pacific lost 1; Reading 2 pcints, with recovery. Great Northern was off %. Lehigh Vailey %, and the whole list 1 to 1½ points, although the activity was concentrated largely in the activity was concentrated largely in th

It was but natural that the action of the New York stock market should, in a way, be reflected in the local stock market. The bargains offered on that list by the breaks of today are enough to make some investors want to shift transactions for larger dividend returns. Of course the comparitive steadiness of the Washington list and freedom from such cyclonic smashes as Wall Street has been forced to endure is enough to make them change their minds. But the low rates for good rails and the certainty the United States will come back into the prosperity wave, makes many investors anxious.
